

Demographic Trends

Since 2000...

30%

increase in population since 2000. As of 2016, the county is home to about 337,000 people.

79%

increase in 65 and older population. This age wave is projected to continue as Baby Boomers age.

223%

increase in Hispanic or Latinos. Chesterfield has become more racially and ethnically diverse.

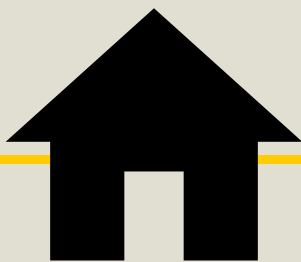

74%

increase in the number of college graduates. Today 44% of the population older than 25 has a college degree.

24%

increase in median household income. This figure is $72,514 as of 2014.

47%

increase in non-family households. There are now more households without children in the county.